Economic Impact Statement
Bill 4-15, Criminal Justice Coordinating Commission – Membership - Amendments

Background:

This legislation would alter the membership of the Criminal Justice Coordinating Commission (Commission) by changing the Council representative from the Chair of the Council's Public Safety Committee to any member of the Public Safety Committee.

1. The sources of information, assumptions, and methodologies used.

No sources of information, assumptions, and methodologies are necessary for this economic impact statement because it does not have an economic impact.

2. A description of any variable that could affect the economic impact estimates.

A description of any variable is not necessary because Bill 4-15 alters the membership of the Commission and therefore has no economic impact.

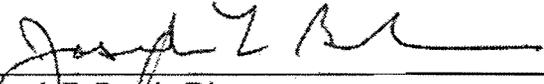

3. The Bill's positive or negative effect, if any on employment, spending, saving, investment, incomes, and property values in the County.

Bill 4-15 will have no economic impact on employment, spending, saving, investment, incomes, and property values in the County. As stated in item #2, the legislation would only change the membership of the Commission.

4. If a Bill is likely to have no economic impact, why is that the case?

Please see items #2 and #3.

5. The following contributed to or concurred with this analysis: David Platt and Rob Hagedoorn, Finance; and Michael Subin of the County Executive's Office.
