

Housing Seminar
for
Montgomery County Employees

“Easing the Burden on Homeowners”

Learn about all the new initiatives for:

- *home ownership *loan modification *refinancing
*short sales *foreclosure scams

Thursday, December 10, 2009
12:00 Noon - 1:30 pm

Executive Office Building - Lobby Level Auditorium
101 Monroe Street, Rockville, MD 20850

With real estate foreclosures on the rise in the County, the Office of Human Rights, the Department of Housing and Community Affairs and the Interagency Fair Housing Coordinating Committee are offering a free Seminar to assist Montgomery County employees with information about intervention solutions to mitigate their housing burden. This seminar will also help County employees refer others to a variety of foreclosure prevention and intervention resources available to county homeowners. Ninety (90) minutes of Administrative Leave may be granted with Supervisor’s approval.

- Hear about available resources to help stressed homeowners
- Learn how you might qualify for the new housing help initiatives
- Question Certified Foreclosure Prevention Counselors

For Additional Information, contact Cecelia Hatton,
Montgomery County Office of Human Rights at 240-777-8468
cecilia.hatton@montgomerycountymd.gov

Registration Procedures:

To register using the web-based Training Registration and Management system, go to the link: <https://int01.mcgov.org/ent/s1/ohr/> and login using your County username and password. The Class ID # is 13951.

If you do not have access to a County username and password, you may register by using the Automated Training Registration Line: (240) 777- 5122.