LEGISLATIVE REQUEST REPORT

Bill 3-13

Economic Development - Equity Investment Companies

Problem: Montgomery County created the Economic Development Fund (EDF) in 1995 to provide financial assistance and incentive to private employers who retain jobs in the County, and to stimulate the creation of new jobs.

The EDF focuses on high tech/biotech companies, manufacturing companies, businesses located in urban revitalization areas and other private employers providing the greatest public benefits. Since 1995, Montgomery County has disbursed more than $40 million through the EDF in the form of grants and loans to over 280 Montgomery County based companies, resulting in the retention or creation of over 30,000 jobs, and leveraging over $52 million in State funding and more than $1 billion in private investment. By the statutory requirements, the EDF cannot make an equity investment to private companies, but uses two forms of assistance; straight loan, or grant convertible to a loan.

The State of Maryland provides creative financing for business enterprises through its Department of Business and Economic Development, Maryland Technology Development Corporation and Maryland Economic Development Corporation. This can be in the form of a grant, loan, loan guarantee, insurance or an equity investment<sup>1</sup>. The State's ability to take an equity stake in companies receiving State funds has garnered substantial financial returns for Marylanders. A prime example of this is GeneLogic, which received funding from both the State – through an equity investment - and Montgomery County – through a loan. When the company was sold, Maryland's share of the profits exceeded $19 million - money that went back into State coffers. In contrast, Montgomery County received $15,000 back from its $188,000 convertible grant.

Through this bill, Montgomery County is simply seeking the right to benefit from any upswings in the companies that we provide financial assistance to, similar to the current abilities of the State.

As an equity shareholder, the County, like the State, will be able to reap a return on its strategic economic development investments when EDF recipients generate substantial profits from their products and services or their company is acquired. These economic returns, whether they are reinvested in the EDF to create a larger funding pool to support business and job growth or used to augment other economic development programs, will benefit Montgomery County.

Goals & Objectives: In the 2010 Maryland General Assembly legislative session, the County worked hard to pass the State HB 891 to enable Montgomery County to adopt a local bill to add this important tool to augment its economic development and job creation.

The purpose of the attached bill is to enact this legislation at the County level. The provisions of the HB891 only allow the County to make equity investments through the County-funded EDF. It does not mandate Montgomery County to make such investments, permitting the County to make equity investment very strategically at its full discretion.

Coordination: Department of Economic Development, Department of Finance, The Office of the County Attorney.

Fiscal Impact: This legislation will use the same funds under the Economic Development Fund, and bears a similar risk to using a loan or a convertible grant to assist companies. As such, no immediate or direct fiscal impact can be gauged at this time.

Economic Impact: This legislation will allow the County's EDF to make a strategic equity investment to a select number of high-tech companies with a huge growth potential, where a conventional form of financial assistance such as a loan or grant is not suitable, or the County will forego an opportunity for a large financial return if the transaction is structured as a loan. Due to a highly speculative nature of the equity investment, not all transaction will be successful. However, the economic impact and the financial return from the successful transactions will more than offset the unsuccessful transactions.

Experience Elsewhere: The State of Maryland, through its Department of Business and Economic Development, has been operating a very successful equity investment program for over a decade and a half.

MEMORANDUM

January 14, 2013

TO: Nancy Navarro, Council President

FROM: Isiah Leggett, County Executive

SUBJECT: Proposed Legislation Relating to the Economic Development Fund and Equity Investments

I am transmitting to Council for introduction a bill to authorize use of the Economic Development Fund (EDF) to make equity investments in private companies. I am also transmitting a Legislative Request Report, Fiscal Impact Statement and Economic Impact Statement for the bill.

In 2010, the State enacted a law (Chapter 710, Montgomery County - Investment Authority) that gave the County authority to use the EDF to make an equity investment in a private company. Prior to enactment of that State law, the County had no authority to use the EDF to make equity investments in private companies and was limited to providing two forms of assistance: (1) a straight loan; or (2) a grant convertible to a loan.

The State, through its Department of Business and Economic Development, currently provides creative financing for business enterprises that can be in the form of a grant, loan, loan guarantee, insurance or equity investment.<sup>1</sup> The State's ability to take an equity stake in companies receiving State funds has garnered substantial financial returns for State residents. A prime example of this is GeneLogic, which received funding from both the State, through an equity investment, and the County, through a loan. When the company was sold, the State's share of the profits exceeded $19 million – i.e., money that went back into State coffers. In contrast, the County received $15,000 back from its $188,000 convertible grant.

This bill would allow the County to benefit from any upswings in the companies to which we provide financial assistance, similar to the current State practice. As an equity shareholder, the County will be able to reap a return on its strategic economic development investments when EDF recipients generate substantial profits from their products and services or their companies are acquired. These economic returns, whether they are used to create a larger EDF funding pool to support business and job growth, augment other economic development programs, or support other County programs, will benefit County residents.

Fiscal Impact Statement

Council Bill XX-12 - Economic Development – Equity Investment Companies

1. Legislative Summary

The proposed bill authorizes the County to:

- make an equity investment in a company located in, or relocated to, Montgomery County;
- provide that the proceeds of an equity investment made by the County be used for certain purposes;
- limit the ownership interest the County may acquire to no more than 25%;
- require that the terms of an equity investment be set forth in a funding agreement, including prohibiting the County from taking certain actions;
- provide that a funding agreement may consist of other agreements or documents;
- require the County to post a notice of each equity investment in a readily accessible and clearly identified location on the Montgomery County website within a certain period of time; and
- generally address equity investments made by the County in certain businesses in the County.

2. An estimate of changes in County revenues and expenditures regardless of whether the revenues or expenditures are assumed in the recommended or approved budget. Includes source of information, assumptions, and methodologies used.

Due to uncertainties about which company the County will invest in, its value, and its economic performance, it is difficult to estimate the potential expenditures (the initial investment) or revenues that the County may derive from its equity investment.

The proposed legislation will also use the same funds under the Economic Development Fund, and bears a similar risk to using a loan or a convertible grant to assist companies. As such, no immediate or direct fiscal impact can be gauged at this time due to uncertainties in estimating the risk.

3. Revenue and expenditure estimates covering at least the next 6 fiscal years.

See item #2 above.

4. An actuarial analysis through the entire amortization period for each bill that would affect retiree pension or group insurance costs.

Not applicable. This bill does not affect retiree pension or group insurance costs.

5. Later actions that may affect future revenue and expenditures if the bill authorizes future spending.

The bill does not authorize future spending.

6. An estimate of the staff time needed to implement the bill.

No additional staff time is needed to implement the bill as the existing staff will still conduct similar due diligence on applicant companies.

7. An explanation of how the addition of new staff responsibilities would affect other duties.
New staff is not required but the existing staff responsibilities will include posting notices of any completed transactions on the County website to comply with the bill.
8. An estimate of costs when an additional appropriation is needed.
Not applicable.
9. A description of any variable that could affect revenue and cost estimates.
Revenues and cost estimates are determined by the selected company's value and economic performance. These variables are difficult to estimate without determining which company the County will choose to invest in.
10. Ranges of revenue or expenditures that are uncertain or difficult to project.
Revenues and costs are affected by the selected company's value and economic performance. These variables are difficult to estimate without determining which company the County will choose to invest in.
11. If a bill is likely to have no fiscal impact, why that is the case.
Not applicable.
12. Other fiscal impacts or comments.
None.

Economic Impact Statement
Council Bill xx-12, Economic Development – Equity Investment Companies

Background:

This Bill authorizes the County to make equity investments in companies through the Economic Development Fund (EDF), limited to an ownership stake of 25% of the company. The bill could have an economic impact if it results in higher, unexpected, paybacks (through the increased value of the equity) from companies that perform very well. The impact could be in the form of funding more EDF transactions, whether taking an equity interest or not, thereby increasing the number of companies that the County can provide EDF incentives.

1. The sources of information, assumptions, and methodologies used.

The information available currently is only anecdotal as to the economic impact of the proposed legislation. There is not sufficient experience with this type of incentive to use as a basis for an economic impact forecast.

2. A description of any variable that could affect economic impact statements.

The economic impact depends on the change in the number and value of EDF incentives granted because of the change in the law, compared to the number of EDF incentives that would have been given without the change in the law. The proposed legislation may cause the County to provide EDF incentives to companies that it would not have, absent this change and in so doing may affect the impact on spending, employment, and other economic variables

3. The bill's positive or negative effect, if any on employment, spending, saving, investment, incomes, and property value in the County.

The bill could increase the number of companies that the County gives EDF incentives, which could increase employment, spending, saving, investment, income and property values in the County. The impact would depend on the specifics of each individual EDF incentive.

4. If a bill is likely to have no economic impact, why is that the case?

Not applicable.
