Hello Ms. Farag -- While I am not available for the Jan. 9 meeting, I would like to share one comment related to an experience I had this past week. The basic point I will be making is that police need to set an example with good driving [when they are not racing for an emergency].

The police car that I was behind by chance [license 2101 LG - I think] never used its turn signal for any of multiple turns and lane changes. Not a good example, right?
