MY STORY

I am a 26 year old father of 3 children, who grew up in Montgomery County Germantown, Maryland and graduated from Quince Orchard High School in 2012 as a parent and scholar athlete who became a father at 15. I have always excelled in sports and had the desire to teach people through sports, so becoming a teenage father and raising a child while still trying to figure life out was difficult to say the least.

Raised by a single mother, I grew up without a consistent father figure and caused a major impact on my well-being and identity development. In 2015 I got into trouble with a few "friends" and as a result was arrested and served 5 months in Montgomery County Correctional Facility. While incarcerated my second child was born and the feeling of not being present emotionally hurt. I decided at that moment I would not go back to the lifestyle that I had previously chosen and that I would never end up in a jail cell again. Facing reality, I contemplated how I was going to move forward with this new vision for my life and I came up with and started a movement called DADDY-BABY!

Since that time, I have given back to my community and gained knowledge, experience, training, certificates and passed assessments from the following educational and development organizations: Identity, Fatherhood Initiative, National Crittenton Services, Career Catchers, Coalition for the Homeless, Montgomery County Recreation Department, Montgomery County Public Schools, Montgomery County Correctional Facilities, International Temple of Deliverance, ParaPro Praxis, Herbalife and many more!

Starting this journey of creating and organizing DADDY-BABY and networking with other non-profits in the community has reinforced that I am not alone and that I can be a change agent in my community.

WELCOME TO DADDY-BABY!

You are now part of an everlasting family opportunity of Education, Growth and Prosperity!
