

3 November 2020

To Whom it May Concern,

The capacities of daycares in Montgomery County, MD should remain at 50% given the current conditions with rising numbers of cases and positivity rate both in the county and the state. I realize that it's hard to open everything back up with this limitation, but given the current numbers, I don't think opening things up further is an option right now.

Thank you,
Virginia Clifford-Weiss