C. Update - Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19) and County Public Health Planning

Participating in the discussion were Dr. Gayles, County Health Officer and Chief of Public Health Services, Dr. Bridgers, Deputy County Health Officer, Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS); and Dr. Stoddard, Director, Office of Emergency Management and Homeland Security (OEMHS).

Dr. Gayles reviewed current statistics related to COVID-19, noting that they are monitoring trends to see the impacts associated with reopening, and that the County is still at a level for high risk of transmission of the virus, even with over 11 percent of the population fully vaccinated. He indicated the State is increasing the County’s weekly allotment of doses to 6,500, and they are developing ways to work with community partners for distribution of the vaccine. Regarding youth sports, he stated it is within the purview of the Board of Health to determine what is allowed, and that decisions are based on clinical data. He recommended that face coverings be worn during sport activities. Dr. Gayles said they are hoping to prevent a situation where another wave of lockdowns is deemed necessary, as was recently done in Europe, and to allow the continued reopening of schools.

Dr. Stoddard reported that the State would help build out a mass vaccination site in Germantown at Montgomery College, which would be able to distribute 3,000 doses daily. He noted that the capacity could be higher, dependent upon the number of available doses.

Councilmembers commented that all sports should be treated equitably, with an emphasis on safety, noting the need for a carefully managed approach to include testing and contract tracing to help prevent transmission of the virus. Dr. Gayles stressed that students, coaches, and families need to be upfront about possible exposure and share that information, and that it must be ensured that kids and parents are adhering to the guidelines to avoid large-scale quarantines.
