

Police should be allowed to ask if they can search your car. Montgomery County has become soft on crime, and the results are an understaffed police force and crime that isn't being prosecuted (giving the false impression that crime has come down in our county). Any potential handcuffs to police is despicable. The county council needs to understand that police are not the enemy; they are our allies.