

I would like to go on record as "opposing" the gas powered leaf blower ban. It's ridiculous and unnecessary, The County has far greater issues to be concerned with and devote their efforts to. This unprecedented ban puts an extreme hardship on County residents financially (and in other ways) with homeowners prior investments with their existing equipment. And enforcement would take away resources that could be better utilized elsewhere within the County. Now you would have neighbors calling in to report other neighbors. Phone lines will get clogged with senseless reporting on one another. This could cause disharmony within neighborhoods and lead to other disturbing issues.

And am I correct in understanding that the County facilities, etc are still allowed to use gas powered equipment? There's an unfair irony here!!!

So, in summary.... Reverse the gas powered leaf blower ban. There has been too much time and effort wasted on this by ALL parties in the last year or two.
