

Regarding the Native Plant Protection Act

I can see the county seeking to restrict invasives such as bamboo, but I think it is gross overreach to specify how much can or cannot be planted to certain types of plants. Do all you can to promote the benefits of natives, but don't tell us what we can do. BTW: we extensively use natives in our landscaping. Not completely. And I haven't tried to calculate how much of each type.