

Carolyn Sherman
Bethesda, MD

There's too much at stake for MoCo to jump into allowing data centers unregulated. Your job is to protect your constituents. Citizens all over the count and the country are joining together to insist that no data centers be approved or built until sensible regulations are in place. The study of data centers is just beginning. The impact on our communities, including our electric bills, has not been assessed. What's the rush? Slow down - get this right. We are depending on you!