William George
Germantown, MD

What can it hurt to study the problems that might arise from data centers? The site at Dickerson might be a good choice since there has been a generation plant there for years. However, we should study the effects on the Potomac and what will the impact on the power grid? How much will customers have to subsidize with increased electric bills? What will be the benefits? Thank you.

 Things are far too uncertain on data centers right now. Most residents in MoCo and across the country have turned against data centers. The State is just beginning a study of data centers. The affordability crisis is directly tied to data center capacity. What is the rush to jump in and allow large scale data centers here? There is every reason to wait, particularly with a project with unknown impacts speeding toward approval with no regulations. Slow down - get this right. Please include my comments in the hearing record.