CAC Membership Criteria: The membership of the Glen Hills Study CAC was based on the following criteria. In order of decreasing importance, DEP sought:

- Residents of the study area.
- Participation from local civic associations within the study area, as available.
- Participation from as many neighborhoods (Glen Hills, Hollinridge, etc.) in the study area as possible.
- Focus on owners with septic systems and some with alternative technology septic systems, if known (innovative systems, sand mounds, holding tanks).
- A broad distribution of residents across the study area.
- A variety of house ages and residence time.
- A mix of residents served by wells and public water.
- Participation by a category change applicant.

Of 32 volunteers indicated their interest in serving on the CAC, 14 members were chosen according to the preceding criteria. 12 have responded to the invitation to participate on the CAC; we are waiting to hear back from another two residents.
