Residential Summer Camp: A traditional, residential summer camp runs from June through August. Activities are geared to age and interests of each individual and can include swimming, wall climbing, zip line, horseback riding, outdoor games, arts/crafts and more. In addition, a few sessions each summer are dedicated to children with Autism.

Daily Adventure: Offered during the summer, participants in the program reside at Camp Fairlee during the week, but activities include a daily field trip to nearby points of interest including the seashore, state parks, zoos and other attractions in nearby cities. The Youth Daily Adventure is for children ages 13 to 21, and the Adult Daily Adventure is geared for adults 21+.

Respite Weekends: During the off-season months of September through May, there are occasional respite weekends for the participants and their families. Most weekends are blended to accommodate children and adults, but some weekends are for children, some for adults, and some just for children with Autism.

Fairlee Vacations Program: Allows for adults 18 and over with developmental and physical challenges to achieve greater independence through travel experiences.
