EDUCATION

University of Maryland - BS in Business 1980

Vermont Law School – JD 1984

Admitted to Bar in Maryland, District of Columbia, Massachusetts, Vermont and Federal Bar

2006- Present

Sole Practitioner in Bethesda, Maryland with a concentration in domestic relations. Representation for both Husbands and Wives. All aspects of divorce law including, custody, child support, alimony, property distribution, attorney fees, domestic violence, etc.

Co –Owner of A SMARTER DIVORCE MEDIATION SERVICES: Started a “team” mediation practice in 2006 with Joan Weiss, Esquire, using many elements of collaborative practice. This is solely a domestic mediation practice where outside neutrals are brought in, if necessary, to help to resolve areas of conflict (i.e. child specialists, appraisers, business valuers). Most of referrals come from other attorneys and professionals in the mental health profession.

August 2005- December 2006- Associate with Brodsky, Greenblatt and Renahan

Upon relocating to Maryland in 2005, became an associate with a domestic relations firm to both become familiar with local domestic practice and to continue in the family law field. Dealt with all aspects of divorce matters before opening my own practice.

October 2004- July 2005- Associate at Downs, Rachlin and Martin, Burlington, Vermont

Upon my departure from the bench in Vermont I wanted to go into private practice and get my feet wet again before I relocated to Maryland. DRM is the biggest firm in Vermont and had just started to develop their domestic relations practice. I was brought on to help develop the division of the practice and helped to establish this division in the firm.

June 1998- September 2004: Magistrate/Part-time Judge, Family Court of Vermont

Appointed to the bench by the Governor of Vermont to serve both as a child support
