

SAPPlings (Student Advocates Protecting the Planet)

SAPPlings is a project created by high school students for high school students in Montgomery County, Maryland. Its purpose is to share information about environmental issues and help students take part in meaningful activities to live more sustainably and make a difference in their schools, their communities and the world at large.

This group found a home under One Montgomery Green and is concerned about the multiple environmental challenges we face locally and worldwide. High school students are expressing interest in learning what they can do to improve the state of the world today and in the future.
