

Sherya Joshi

Shreya Joshi from Naperville, Illinois is founder of Project TEAL. She firmly believes in the power of the youth and Generation Z's ability to create a more inclusive and tolerant society. She is passionate about social justice, women's equality, politics, and the intersection of journalism and civic advocacy. In her free time, you can find her binge watching Parks and Recreation or scrolling through TikTok.

