The licensed counselors will provide an assessment of each child's needs, as well as information and referrals for these needs.

Witnessing

Domestic Violence as a Child

Domestic violence is a pattern of controlling behavior that can include physical abuse, emotional or psychological abuse, sexual abuse, or financial abuse.

For a child, witnessing domestic violence in the home can be a traumatic experience with lasting mental and physical health consequences .

Some of the negative effects include*:

- ◆ Anger
- ◆ Frequent nightmares
- ◆ Fear, even of being at home
- ◆ Low Self esteem
- ◆ Mental illness
- ◆ Poor school performance
- ◆ Difficulty with attachment
- ◆ Other psycho social difficulties

These are just a few examples*

Through the Safe Start program, children learn how to cope with the psychological effects of their trauma in an effort to prevent those effects from persisting long-term. Counseling can be an important step in a family's healing and making steps towards a positive future.
