

Suggested Graphic Novels and Nonfiction for Teens

Almost American Girl

When Robin's mother announces their vacation in Alabama is a permanent move from Seoul, Robin can't fit into her new life—then a comics drawing class shows her a new future.

The American Dream?: A Journey on Route 66 Discovering Dinosaur Statues, Muffler Men, and the Perfect Breakfast Burrito

Shing Yin Khor travels historic Route 66 alone with their dog in search of the two Americas they imagined as a child in Malaysia: Hollywood versus The Grapes of Wrath.

Bingo Love

Hazel and Mari fall in love at church bingo in 1963. Forced apart by their families and society, they meet as grandmothers decades later at a church bingo hall and confront life-changing decisions.

Blue Flag

A teen boy and girl fall for each other—but each is loved by their best friend.

Cheer Up!: Love and Pompoms

After Annie reluctantly joins Bebe's cheerleading squad, they rekindle their lost friendship, deal with queer youth problems, grow with each other, and explore new feelings.

Delicious in Dungeon

Medieval D&D-type adventurers cook what they find in dungeons.

Demon Slayer

Tanjirō learns to fight demons and searches for a way to turn his demon-sister human again.

Dr. Stone

Everyone's been turned to stone... except for two teenage boys who try to restore humanity.

Frieren: Beyond Journey's End

What does an elf mage do after the adventure's over?

Fullmetal Alchemist

Forbidden alchemy starts two brothers on an epic adventure!

Girl from the Other Side

A plague turns people into monsters—but one little girl is immune.

Harley Quinn: Breaking Glass

Harley finds a family at Gotham's finest drag cabaret. When gentrification threatens her home, she must make a choice: to change Gotham by joining activist Ivy, or the Joker.

Jughead: Volume One, Jughead: Volume Two, and Jughead: Volume Three

Archie's pal—confirmed asexual Jughead Jones—dives into hijinks and hamburgers, and surprises Sabrina the Teenage Witch.

Kakuriyo: Bed & Breakfast for Spirits

A young woman struggles to prove her cooking skills to supernatural beings.

Lumberjanes

"Hardcore lady-type" campers investigate weird happenings amidst humor, friendship, and a bit of romance.

The Magic Fish

Tiến tries to find the words to tell his mother he is gay through fairytales they share, while his mother navigates new grief and tells her own story; through storytelling they meet in truth.

Messy Roots

Laura moves from Wuhan to Texas, where no one has heard of Wuhan until COVID-19; they want to make the basketball team, escape Chinese school, and understand their attraction to girls.

MoComCon is an all day, all ages event celebrating all things comics, graphic novels, and fandoms!

Saturday, January 14, 2023

10:30 AM–4:00 PM

Germantown Library

19840 Century Boulevard,
Germantown, MD 20874
240-777-0110

For more information, visit www.mcpl.link/MoComCon

www.montgomerycountymd.gov/library

Ms. Marvel

A Muslim teen balances school, family expectations—and being a superhero.

My Hero Academia and My Hero Academia: Vigilantes

A world where most people are superheroes—and attend high school to hone their powers.

My Love Mix-Up!

A romantic message gets picked up by the wrong person. Romantic confusion begins!

Naruto

The blockbuster manga about young ninjas in training, particularly Naruto, who has a beast literally living inside him. If you like it, try Boruto, the sequel.

Nimona

Young shapeshifter Nimona becomes a supervillain's sidekick in a kingdom where nothing is as it seems—and no one's life will be the same after Nimona.

Olympians

The lives of Greek gods, for teens.

One-Punch Man

Knocking out bad guys with one blow.

Our Dreams at Dusk

A shy gay teen finds a group of friends through a building renovation project.

Quintcredible

Quinton is short and weak—then he gains a superpower he uses along with his inventions.

The Shadow Hero

“First Asian American superhero”: Hank Chu is pushed to become a superhero—only when tragedy strikes, he meets the Green Turtle, a spirit from someone's shadow who grants a wish.

Shadow of the Batgirl

Teenage assassin Cassandra Cain must find herself and forge a new path in a Gotham missing its greatest hero, Batgirl.

Sheets

A teenager struggles to keep the family laundry business going—and befriends a ghost.

Space Boy

Life on an asteroid with a girl from another time, a mysterious boy, and a strange artifact.

Stage Dreams

Teen runaway Grace and stagecoach robber Flor become partners in a daring heist. Will they foil a Confederate plot in the New Mexico Territory?

Supergirl: Being Super

Kara has the same dream every night, and she doesn't remember her life before eight years ago—but when an earthquake strikes, that dream of another world will change her reality.

Surviving the City and Surviving the City Vol. 2 From the Roots Up

Miikwan and Dez navigate friendship and community in coping with family loss and grief, then Dez discovers herself as a Two-Spirit person.

The Unbeatable Squirrel Girl

Doreen Green beat Thanos and Deadpool. Her newest challenge is college as a compsci major, but wherever she goes she kicks butts and makes friends with her empathy and wit.

Usagi Yojimbo

Adventures of a rabbit warrior/bodyguard in medieval Japan.

Whistle: A New Gotham City Hero

A teenage community advocate for all in need, including stray dog Lebowitz, faces choices when she finds family friend E. Nigma is destroying her historic neighborhood.

Wonder Twins Vol. 1: Activate! and Vol. 2: The Fall and Rise of the Wonder Twins

Jayna and Zan are heroes, but they live in the real world. When bad guys get beaten and jailed, does it end the problem?

Yotsuba&!

A spirited little girl's life in the city, making new friends of all ages.

