

Multilingual Certification Program Overview and Guidance for Departments

Montgomery County, Maryland is a culturally diverse community and the government provides services to more than 1 million residents. With such a diverse population, the government must ensure that its services are accessible and available to everyone, including individuals with limited English proficiency (LEP).

LEP individuals are customers who are prevented from meaningful access to services, because of their inability to read, write or understand the English language. For additional information about LEP, read Montgomery County’s Limited English Proficiency Policy Statement at montgomerycountymd.gov/lep/resources/files/lep\_policy\_statement.pdf.

About the Multilingual Certification Program

Montgomery County’s Multilingual Certification Program was developed to expand its pool of available language translation resources by certifying employees who can communicate in specific languages other than English to provide services to our LEP customers. For additional County LEP Resources, visit montgomerycountymd.gov/lep/resource.html.

Multilingual certification ensures the quality and timeliness of language services provided to both LEP residents and visitors. Employees who obtain their multilingual certification receive a multilingual pay differential based on their certification level.

Levels of Multilingual Certification

- Basic – requires oral communication skills in a second language.
- Advanced – requires oral and written communication skills in a second language.
- Expert (only for members of the Fraternal Order of Police) – requires mastery of both basic and advanced skills necessary for comprehensive use in interrogations, investigations and legal proceedings.

Multilingual certified employees are registered in the Language Certified Employee Database available at montgomerycountymd.gov/lep/res\_internal.html. Certified employees may be contacted by other departments to provide language assistance and are expected to make reasonable effort to provide requested services with approval from their supervisor. Employees at the Advanced level certification may be called upon by the Office of Human Resources to serve as language raters for language certification exams.

Approved Languages

Employees can be certified in any of the approved languages:

1. American Sign Language
2. Amharic
3. Chinese
4. French
5. Korean
6. Spanish
7. Vietnamese

NOTE: Exceptions to the approved languages may occur based on collective bargaining agreements.

Certification Process

Once a department has determined a need for multilingual employees to serve LEP group, interested and/or selected employees must obtain approval from their supervisor or manager and their department or office director to take the exam(s) for multilingual certification. Departments and offices are responsible for funding their employees’ multilingual pay differential.

The Multilingual Program uses certified County employees to administer Basic and Advanced level exams. Certified employees are key to the success of the program’s operation. The program coordinator works with supervisors to obtain approval for certified employees to conduct exams during business hours. Montgomery County uses a vendor to administer the Expert level exam (available only to members of the Fraternal Order of Police) and certain languages outside of the seven approved languages. The cost of the using the vendor is paid for by the department requesting the exam.

Determining a Need for Multilingual Employees to Serve LEP Customers

As a best practice, Montgomery County Government departments and offices should assess their positions and identify those with frequent contact with LEP customers. Identifying these positions in advance helps departments provide timely service to LEP customers. Consider the following factors when determining a need for multilingual employees to serve LEP customers.

Language Demographics

Do you know your customer base? Consider the limited English proficient (LEP) demographics of your service delivery area and identify/track customers by primary language.

Contact with Limited English Proficient (LEP) Customers

How often are employees in direct contact with LEP customers in your department? Consider initial LEP customer contact, including requests for information and walk-ins. Infrequent or intermittent contact with LEP customers can be referred to other language access resources found on the County's Limited English Proficiency webpage, montgomerycountymd.gov/lep/resource.html.

Utilization of Multilingual Employees

What will be the role of the multilingual employee? Consider their position and if it requires providing services directly to customers or if they would function as a third-party interpreter and/or translator for other staff members.

Required Skills

How will the multilingual employee use their language skills? Consider if the multilingual employee will use written language skills, oral language skills, or both.

Availability of Certified Multilingual Employees

Does your department currently have enough multilingual certified employees to meet the existing need? Consider the current complement of multilingual certified employees and if they can be leveraged in a more effective and efficient way to serve your customers.

Associated Costs for Certified Multilingual Employees

Can your department fund multilingual certified employees? Consider the impact to your department's budget for multilingual pay differential. The multilingual pay differential is paid for all hours worked.

Multilingual Pay

Certified employees receive a differential for all hours worked.
