

Signing Up for Gmail

- 1 If you're using an Apple device, you'll first need to download the Gmail app. Tap on the App Store icon.  (If you're using an Android device, the Gmail app should already be installed.)
- 2 Then type in "Gmail" in the search bar. The icon will look like the icon you see at the top of this page.
- 3 Tap Get to download the app. After the Gmail app downloads, tap it to open.

Create a Gmail Account

1 Open the Gmail app to get started and select Sign in. In the emergent window asking about what type of account you want to create, choose Google.

2 In the next window, select Continue.

A window will emerge. Select Create account, then For myself.

- 3 Type in your first and last name in the space provided and then select Next.

- 4 You need to tell Gmail a birthday. We recommend using your real birthday because it's much easier to remember and because you'll need it if you lose your password. If you don't want to use your real birthday, just make one up and write it somewhere.

- 6 Enter a strong password. Then re-type it in the spaces provided. Since the password is meant to be secret, you will not see the letters as you type — it's tricky so type VERY CAREFULLY and use ONE finger. You have to type it twice to make sure you typed it correctly.

You can always change your password later.

Add phone number?

If you like, you can add this phone's number to your account for use across Google services. Learn more

 Phone number

This won't make your number public

For example, your number will be used to

-  Reset your password if you forget it
- Receive video calls & messages

How it works

-  To make sure this number is yours, Google will send you an SMS with a 6-digit verification code (charges may apply)

You're in control

-  You can always change your number, control how it's used, or remove it in your Google Account (account.google.com/phone)

Skip Yes, I'm in

If you do enter your phone number, scroll down and select Yes, I am in. In doing so, your phone number will be connected to your Gmail account. You will then check for a six digit number it sent to cellphone text messages. At a future date, you can use your cellphone number to reset your password if you forget it.

8 Next, you'll get a confirmation screen with your new email address! Tap Next.

9 The last step is to scroll, read through, and agree to the Privacy and Terms until you see the blue button for I Agree

Select it to finalize your Gmail account creation.
